LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Grant and the Free-Lovers. EDITORS APPEAL .- At a recent convenon in Boston, of the extreme Radicals of Radicals, what is called the Free-Love party, neaded by E. H. Heywood, the following remarkable resolution was passed:

X, X, X, EDITORS APPEAL.-Referring to an article about dipptheria, in your issue of yesterday, allow me to copy the following, which I cut out of some paper: "A successful diphtheria a few hours before he took the train. M. physician has been found in the person of Hayme, stage manager, and M. Jolly, come-Dr. Chenery, of Boston, who is honest enough to publish his specific for the benefit of the afflicted. It is hyposulphate of soda. He says if is a sure remedy; that he uses it in his the husband of practice, and has cured more than one hunter Francais. dred and fifty cases. We are told: 'A dose of the hyposulphate is from five to fifteen grains or more, in syrup, every two or four hours, according to the age and circumstances of the patient. Purging is the only evil which an everdose can produce; hence as much as the patient can bear without producing that result, is a good rule in the several cases. The solution or mixture can be used in doses of five drops to a half drachm in milk. For thorough stimulation the amount is greater than can be taken in water.' Dr. enery usually gives the specific in such doses as can be readily taken in milk, using milk besides as food for small children. It is said, however, that hyposulphate prevents the digestion of milk, and therefore the latter should not be given in less than one hour after administering the medicine."

PBO BONO PUBLICO. Why the Ordinary Pie is Unwholesome

EDITORS APPEAL.—You say "there ought to be a law against pie." I agree with you as to ordinary pie. I beg you to consider why pie is so unwholesome. In order to discover this you must go into a kitchen and see pies made. The first move is to take a very liberal (the more liberal the better the pie is liked), allowance of lard and mix it with a limited allowance of flour, roll this m xture cut on a board, line a pan with it, put in fruit, cover it with another rolled out piece of dough, saturated with lard, bake it and there is your pie. Now, which of the three component parts of this pie makes it nuwholes me—the flour, the lard or the fruit? We all know good fruit is wholesome, and we know floor made into bread is the yery staff of life. Then why is pie unwhole-some? Solely because it is filled with that villainous scrofula causing stuff from the hog called lard. The very word scrolula comes from the latin scrofu, a sow, the most filthy eating animal in the world. People that will eat hog meat have no right to complain of pies, as a pie is only about one-third or one-half hog's lard. There can be wholesome pies. Take a pint or a quart of best Graham flour, make it up with cream, roll it out and bake it with good fruit, and you have a -At the Theater next week we are to have bake it with good fruit, and you have a basen and Crane, Our Bachelors, The Two wholesome pie which children can eat, and on the Circular Railway at Clichy, France, last Tuesday Night— The Causes.

Panis, February 5.—The calamity which scurred on the Circular railway at Clichy, Tuesday night, is even more horrible than was estimated from first reports. Eleven persons have already died, the most notable of whom is Count de Puyferrat. The number wounded is computed at sixty, and of these some are likely to die. Denjidonne, engineer of the train on the Circular railroad, died yesterday. In his ante mortem state Resolved. She married him in 1837, when Cremieux's reputation at the bar had been established by his denunciation of the famous bandit Tresfaillon and his defense of Guernon-Ravaille, one of Charles X's ministers at the conclusion of whose trails he fellow. ters, at the conclusion of whose trial he fell back fainting, like Sheridan at the trial of Warren Hastings. It was for her sake that he bought Mr. Odilon Barrot's practice in the Turkey and Asia Minor. In 1840 they went together to Egypt and obtained the acquittal of certain Jews of Damasons who were accused of assassinating a Catholic priest and dipping their unleavened bread in his blood. When M. Cremieux's parliamentary career began in 1842 it was his wife who had the credit of directing his crusade against Guiz t, and it was she who, in 1848, sent him to the Tuileries to warn the royal family that the palace was to be attacked and to make arrangements or their flight. A month later, having been neasure which made Mme. Cremieux-almost as notorious as her husband. He attempted to re-establish divorce. The proposition which had nimest succeeded in 1890 was reeived with a howl of derision in 1848. Cremfeux and his wife found themselves lamooned in half the newspapers of Paris. The Charicari attacked them with savage caricares, and even the man'y and honorable Danmier for once stooped to scurrility. Cremieux's features, never very handsome, became a byword of ughness in Daumier's sketches, and Mrne. retired from public life after his imprison-ment by Louis Napoleon, Mme. Cremieux was almost forgotten till her husband, resuming his seat in 1869, began to agitate for the naturalization of the Jews of Algiers, and the political world again bethought itself of the aithful, patient Jewess, who had devoted so much of her life to the cause of her religion. And the war of 1870 found her at her post. When Cremieux made his famous appeal to the women of France on behalf of the ill-clad, ill-fed soldiers of its armies, Mme. Cremieux, though feeble with extreme old age, went from house to house and succeeded in gathering half a million of francs for the French prisoners in Germany. This was the crowning act of a life which was in every way an examplar of perfect wemanhood." Terrible Death. Brownsville States: "Last Saturday after-soon a young man from Cincinnati, named James Kissick, attempted to board a freight train, at the Brownsville depot, while it was in motion, and losing his balance, fell beneath the wheels and had both his knees and legs crushed to atoms. He was taken up and carried into one of the depot rooms, and placed on a cot. Drs. Howell and Sevier were called in, and at once proceeded to amputate both limbs above the knees. They were assisted in the trying operation by Drs. Cooper, Potter and Patton. Early that night fortunate victim died from the fearful shock he had received. His remains were forwarded to his relatives in Cincinnati, in of his brother, who was summon hither by a telegram. Though poorly dressed and on a tramp, his features bore the marks of good raising. He could not have been more than twenty years old. This is another awful warning to those who follow the practice of boarding trains while in motion." For finest flavor smoke Wright's Orange Durhum.
